
OUR METHODOLOGY

Our researchers look to the curators of these soups and delve into the recipes to find the secrets behind every great recipe. Much of these great recipes come from unique cultures and people, and so we've cultivated a culture of learning, sharing and teaching to help develop the next generation of chefs and preserve St. Louis' unique food culture.

Through our ties and partnerships with food education centers, we can place qualified youth chefs in positions to help keep these traditions alive and inspire the next generation to leave their mark.

OUR PROUD SPONSORS

St. Louis Chefs & Entrepreneur's Society

The Culinary Institute of America

Missouri's Grocers and Growers Association

The Farm to Table Coalition

Kitchen Industries Inc.

And many more.

Director Ramsey

Coordinator of Resources Mrs. Childs

Development Specialist Bourdain

COO Graham

OUR HISTORY

Starting in the mid 1980's, St. Louis experienced a resurgence in its food culture and offered experiences.

A unique melting pot of cuisines came together to call the city their home. This gathering of people brought forward the flavors of Italy, Vietnam, Germany, Bosnia, France and became the basis for Creole and River Valley flavors.

ABC Soup Co. wanted to help not only preserve these flavors but help showcase how these flavors have influenced and left their mark on the city. With this in mind, ABC Soup Co. was formed and began forging partnerships with everyone involved, cooks and restaurants to suppliers and investors.

